Capitalist Unconscious Marx Lacan:

The Capitalist Unconscious Samo Tomšič, 2016-02-16 A major systematic study of the connection between Marx and Lacan's work. Finalist for the American Board and Academy of Psychoanalysis Book Prize. Despite a resurgence of interest in Lacanian psychoanalysis particularly in terms of the light it casts on capitalist ideology as witnessed by the work of Slavoj Žižek, there remain remarkably few systematic accounts of the role of Marx in Lacan's work. A major comprehensive study of the connection between their work. The Capitalist Unconscious resituates Marx in the broader context of Lacan's teaching and insists on the capacity of psychoanalysis to reaffirm dialectical and materialist thought. Lacan's unorthodox reading of Marx refigured such crucial concepts as alienation, jouissance and the Freudian labour theory of the unconscious. Tracing these developments, Tomšič maintains that psychoanalysis, structuralism and the critique of political economy participate in the same movement of thought; his book shows how to follow this movement through to some of its most important conclusions. The Marx Through Lacan Vocabulary Christina Soto van der Plas, Edgar Miguel Juárez-Salazar, Carlos Gómez Camarena, David Pavón-Cuellar, 2022-04-24 This text explores a set of key concepts in Marxist theory as developed and read by Lacan, demonstrating links and connections between Marxist thought and Lacanian practice. The book examines the complexity of these encounters through the structure of a comprehensive vocabulary which covers diverse areas from capitalism and communism to history, ideology, politics, work and family. Offering new perspectives on these concepts in psychoanalysis as well as in the fields of political and critical theory, the book brings together contributions from a range of international experts to demonstrate the dynamic relationship between Marx and Lacan as well as illuminating untranslatable points which may offer productive tension between the two. The entries trace the trajectory of Lacan's appropriation of Marx's concepts and analyses how they were questioned, criticized and reworked by Lacan, accounting for the wide reach of two thinkers and worlds in constant homology. Each entry also discusses psychoanalytic debates relating to the concept and seeks to refine the clinical scope of Marx's work, demonstrating its impact on the social and individual dimensions of Lacanian clinical practice. With a practical and structured approach, The Marx through Lacan Vocabulary will appeal to psychoanalysts and researchers in a range of fields including political science, cultural studies and philosophy. Reading Architecture with Freud and Lacan Lorens Holm, 2022-09-30 Reading Architecture with Freud and Lacan: Shadowing the Public Realm methodically outlines key concepts in psychoanalytic discourse by reading them against key modern and post-modern architects. It begins with what is arguably the central concept for each discipline by putting the unconscious in a dialectic relation to space. Each subsequent chapter begins with a detail in architectural discourse, a kind of provocation that anchors each excursion into the thought of Freud and Lacan. The text is cyclical, episodic and cloudlike rather than expository; the intention is not simply to explain the concept of the unconscious but to different degrees perform it in the text. The book offers powerful critiques of current planning practice which has no tools to address our attachment to places. It concludes with powerful critiques of our incapacity to change the environmentally damaging ways we live our lives which is an effect of our incapacity to recognise the presence of the death drive in our nature The text is an extended thesis spanning the chapters that the field of the Other is the common grammar that organises subjects into civilisations which has consequences for how we treat the public realm in architecture politics and the city The field of the Other is a slightly different slice through the urban social world It shadows but does not correspond exactly to more familiar categories like private public inside outside figure ground or piazza boulevard Reading Architecture with Freud and Lacan will be an essential resource to anyone interested in how the environment we build is a reflection of our desire Psychoanalysis is one of the great humanist discourses of the 20th century and this book will be a valuable reference to the humanist in architects planners and social scientists whether they are students professionals or amateurs It will appeal to historians of the 20th century and to psychoanalysts and architects who are interested in how their respective discourses interdigitate with each other and with other discourses The Marx

Johnston,2024-05-14 Selfishness is essential to capitalism or so both advocates and opponents claim In Infinite Greed Adrian Johnston argues that this consensus is mistaken Through a novel synthesis of Marxism and psychoanalysis he reveals how the relentless pursuit of profits is not fundamentally animated by human acquisitiveness Instead capitalism s strange infinite greed demands that individuals sacrifice their pleasures their well being and even themselves to serve inhuman capital Johnston traces the mechanisms that compel capitalist subjects to obey the cold imperative to accumulate in perpetuity and without limits and also without regard for the consequences for everyone and everything else Facing crises such as spiraling wealth inequality and the profit driven prospect of a looming ecological apocalypse the rational self interest of the majority would seem to dictate putting a stop to capitalist accumulation By bringing together the Marxian critique of political economy with psychoanalytic metapsychology Johnston shows why and how capitalism rather than being responsive to people s rationally selfish interests disregards and overrides them instead Unlike previous syntheses of Marxism and psychoanalysis Infinite Greed pairs Freudian and Lacanian concepts with the economic heart of Marx s historical materialism In so doing Johnston brings to light the complex intertwining of political and libidinal economies keeping us invested and complicit in perpetuating capitalism and its ills

Lacan and Marx The Invention of the Symptom provides an incisive commentary on Lacan s reading of Marx mapping the relations between these two vastly influential thinkers Unlike previous books Bruno provides a detailed history of Lacan s reading of Marx and surveys his references to Marx in both his writings and seminars Examining Lacan s key argument that Marx invented the symptom Bruno shows how Lacan went on to criticize Marx and contrasts Marx s concept of surplus value with Lacan s surplus enjoyment Exploring the division between Marxist and psychoanalytic perspectives on social and psychological need and Lacan s formalisation of the capitalist discourse the book compares the positions of Althusser Deleuze and Guattari and i ek on the relations between Lacan Marx and capitalism using a wide range of cultural examples from Stevenson s Dr Jekyll and Mr Hyde to Brecht s Joan Dark and Pierpont Mauler Through these readings Bruno also elaborates an extended commentary on Lacan s central idea of the division of the subject His focus is not only on showing how we can exit from capitalism but also and just as importantly on showing how we can make capitalism exit from us This book will be of great interest to scholars and readers of Lacan and Marx from across the fields of psychoanalysis philosophy and political economy and will also appeal to Lacanian psychoanalysts in clinical practice Lacan and Capitalist Discourse Jorge Alemán,2023-08-04

New Essays on the Frankfurt School of Critical Theory offers fifteen essays covering a variety of authors and topics related to the Frankfurt School of Critical Theory Institut f 1 4r Sozialforschung that flourished from the 1920s in connection with the University of Frankfurt in Germany and then abroad The volume offers reflections on the Frankfurt School TM s critical dialogue with philosophical predecessors such as Marx and Nietzsche elucidates key debates between Frankfurt School authors and contemporaries and addresses the continuing significance of the Frankfurt School in the postmodern age with reference to major thinkers such as Fredric Jameson Antonio Negri Gilles Deleuze and Jacques Lacan

Readers will find a lively but respectful debate on the strengths and limitations of Frankfurt notions about technology, negative dialectics, the Shoah and the utopian dimension of political thought among other concerns. The aim of contributors throughout has been to broaden readers' understanding of the sophistication and integrity of Frankfurt School thought rather than reducing it to the level of the formulaic or polemical. Music theory, the representation of urban spaces in prose and image and the theorization of childhood find a place in this appropriately diverse collection with essays on Lewis Mumford and Siegfried Kracauer broadening its scope.

Subject to Reading Eugene Henry De Klerk, 2009. The book explores what it means for a human organism to be a subject and responds to what it sees as the contemporary ablation of subjectivity in favour of an impoverished biopolitics, a concept borrowed from Foucault. It is preoccupied with questions of ethics and education, arguing that Lacanian psychoanalysis like Freirean literacy constitutes first and foremost an education in responsible subjecthood. It identifies such an education as a very necessary intervention in what appears to be a global double bind between fanatical certainty and capitalist abstraction. The book asserts that contrary to most trends concerning the appropriation of psychoanalysis or Freirean techniques for teaching Freirean pedagogy and Lacanian psychoanalysis are not purely toolboxes but profound epistemological and philosophical arguments. These arguments also combine to suggest a new socio-political conception of theology. In addition, the book draws on examples from literature and popular culture to explicate certain ideas. In this regard, the book primarily undertakes a reading of selected works by J. M. Coetzee.

Egocracy Howard Rouse, Sonia Arribas, 2011. This book tries to bring together the work of Marx, Freud and Lacan. It does this not by enumerating what might stereotypically be considered to be the central theses of these authors and then proceeding to combine them, a method that is inevitably doomed to failure, but instead by confronting each one of their oeuvres with what might best be described as its extimate core. The work of Marx is confronted with a problematic that implicitly and at times even explicitly runs throughout it: that of the splitting, dividing and doubling or perhaps better knotting of the proletarian subject. The work of Freud is confronted following on from this analysis of Marx with the hidden social and historical determination of its own most revolutionary insight: that the nucleus of the ego is unconscious and this social and historical determination itself in turn allows for a reinscription of the three fundamental categories of Lacanian psychoanalysis: the symbolic, the imaginary and the real.

Everyday Extraordinary Christopher M. Gemberchak, 2004. The concept of fetishism has long been a window through which philosophers, psychoanalysts and cultural anthropologists have looked in order to critically examine the nature of beliefs, sexual interests and material values and it remains today a vital interpretive paradigm. The enduring interest in fetishism gives testimony to the fact that its status and significance have yet to be fully resolved. In the attempt to further clarify this ambiguous and often mystifying phenomenon, the contributors to Everyday Extraordinary: Encountering Fetishism with Marx, Freud and Lacan have taken a fresh look at the fundamental dynamic of fetishism through the lenses of its most influential interpreters: not only Marx, Freud and Lacan but also Derrida, Manonni and Pietz. In this collection of essays the philosophical approach joins forces with the psychoanalytic and the psychoanalytic with the aesthetic and mythological often with striking results Emerging from the essays contained in this volume is a notion of fetishism as a response to a crisis of meaning personal social or religious The fetish mediates the crisis that arises when a system of meaning and identity is confronted with something that threatens it with dissolution whether this threat arises from an excessive and traumatic figure of alterity or from the loss of the ground on which ones certainty had been staked And the stakes of this confrontation are indeed high as the fetish is here seen as an object having a profound influence on the life of desire now leading to a symbolic blossoming of the mundane now into perverse repetition and the refusal of change The Beatles with Lacan Henry W. Sullivan, 1995 The Beatles were the most significant cultural phenomenon of their time but what exactly did they signify Using a psychoanalytic approach The Beatles with Lacan attempts to answer this still relevant question It argues that Beatlemania and the music of Lennon McCartney highlighted the end of the Modern Age as it had been expressed in the ideals of the Enlightenment The albums from Revolver 1966 to Abbey Road 1969 are seen collectively as the first popular post modern classic of western music and the Beatles themselves as cultural pioneers of enduring achievement Miroslaw Balka Mirosław Bałka, Zygmunt Bauman, Paulo Herkenhoff, Julian Heynen, László Krasznahorkai, 2009 This exhibition is the tenth commission in the Unilever Series an annual art commission The Renaissance of Sociological Theory Henry Etzkowitz, Ronald M. Glassman, 1991 Postmodern Law and Disorder Dragan Milovanovic, 1992 The postmodernist view with its emphasis on the nature of discursive practices in constructing subjectivity and reality has found many applications This book develops a critically informed psychoanalytic semiotic view derived from Lacan and applies it to the study of law It also integrates some of the central concepts of chaos theory in describing how the legal text is constructed and how it may be read Postmodern feminist analyses focusing on a possible écriture feminine provide key insights and the notion of an empowered democracy is offered as a potentially generating milieu for a revolutionary replacement discourse Claude Lévi-Strauss Thomas Shalvey, 1979
