Phonics Screening Check

What is phonics?

Phonics is the study of the sounds of words and how they are written. It is the study of the relationship between the sounds of words and the letters that represent them.

Phonics is a key part of learning to read and write. It helps children to understand how words are made and how they are written. This helps them to read and write more confidently.

How is phonics taught?

Phonics is taught in a systematic way. Children learn the sounds of letters and how they are written. They then learn to blend these sounds to form words. This helps them to read and write more confidently.

Phonics is also taught through games and activities. This helps children to learn in a fun and engaging way. They can practice their phonics skills by playing games like 'I Spy' or 'Simon Says'.

Why is phonics important?

Phonics is important because it helps children to learn to read and write. It is a key part of literacy and helps children to understand how words are made and how they are written. This helps them to read and write more confidently.

How can I help my child with phonics?

You can help your child with phonics by reading to them and talking to them about the sounds of words. You can also play games like 'I Spy' or 'Simon Says' to help them learn the sounds of letters and how they are written.

What are the phonics screening check questions?

The phonics screening check is a test that asks children to read words that they have not heard before. This helps to see how well they can use their phonics skills to read new words.
