Technology now plays a central role in producing and distributing news and Ads fundamentally altering the media landscape. However there has been limited exploration of the broader implications of these advancements particularly from the perspective of the Global South. This edited volume seeks to address this gap by featuring papers that examine how technology has reshaped newsroom and advertorial processes in countries like Malawi South Africa and Nigeria. Through a collection of insightful essays readers are invited to explore the transformative power of technology in media production packaging and distribution systems. From digital innovations to traditional media adaptations this volume offers a comprehensive understanding of the evolving media landscape in the age of technology.
