Teaching and Christian Imagination David I. Smith, Susan M. Felch, 2016-01-15 This book offers an energizing Christian vision for the art of teaching. The authors experienced teachers themselves encourage teacher readers to reanimate their work by imagining it differently. David Smith and Susan Felch along with Barbara Carvill, Kurt Schaefer, Timothy Steele, and John Witvliet creatively use three metaphors: journeys and pilgrimages, gardens and wilderness, buildings and walls to illuminate a fresh vision of teaching and learning. Stretching beyond familiar clichés, they infuse these metaphors with rich biblical echoes and theological resonances that will inform and inspire Christian teachers everywhere.

Reset the Heart

Dr. Mai-Anh Le Tran, 2017-05-02 When the Black Lives Matter protest movement burst into dynamic action following the shooting death of young Michael Brown in the fall of 2014 in Ferguson, MO, a good number of clergy and lay leaders in greater St. Louis sprang to action and learned anew what it took to put some feet to their prayers. However, as improvisational efforts continued to rally and organize churches toward the enduring work of confronting the insidious violence of systemic social injustices in their own backyard, these religious leaders ran head on into a familiar yet perplexing wall: the incapacity and unwillingness of their faith communities to respond. In many cases, the resistance was and still is fierce, eerily reminiscent of the stand offs that divided religious communities and leadership in the 1960s Civil Rights era. If the Church's teaching, learning, and practice of faith is purportedly transformative, then where was that faith when it was needed most? If good religious formation had been happening or had it then why the enduring signs of indifference, apathy, exasperation, resistance, symptoms of anesthetized moral consciousness, and debilitated hope in the face of pervasive social cultural violence? The answer may come in a searing indictment that in an emerging cultural religious era in which religious identity expression and experience are increasingly pluralistic yet also politicized, polarizing, and racialized, Christian faith communities, even those of progressive theological persuasions, are still held under dominant cultural captivity and fashioned by colonizing teaching strategies of disimagination such that the stories, theologies, and rituals/practices of the faith have effectively become obstacles that anesthetize moral agency and debilitate courageous action for hope and change. This book addresses the above practical concerns with three paradigmatic questions: 1. What does it mean to educate for faith in a world marked by violence? 2. How are Christian faith communities complicit in the teaching and learning of violence? 3. What renewed practices of faith and educational leadership yield potential for the unlearning and unmaking of violence? An organizing thesis drives the inquiry: Thinking and teaching for violence resisting action as Christians requires an on purpose setting of our hearts in a world that violates and harms with impunity. Against violent disimagination and its conscience numbing instruments, Christian religious communities are being challenged to regenerate radical forms of prophetic protested faith, the skills and instincts of which must be honed deliberately. This occurs through intentional and strategic forms of public consciousness raising for the sake of participation and action, an action that moves toward and is fueled by critical

Smith,2016-03-29 Christianity Today Book Award Winner Martin Institute and Dallas Willard Center Book Award You are what you love But you might not love what you think In this book award winning author James K A Smith shows that who and what we worship fundamentally shape our hearts And while we desire to shape culture we are not often aware of how culture shapes us We might not realize the ways our hearts are being taught to love rival gods instead of the One for whom we were made Smith helps readers recognize the formative power of culture and the transformative possibilities of Christian practices He explains that worship is the imagination station that incubates our loves and longings so that our cultural endeavors are indexed toward God and his kingdom This is why the church and worshiping in a local community of believers should be the hub and heart of Christian formation and discipleship Following the publication of his influential work Desiring the Kingdom Smith received numerous requests from pastors and leaders for a more accessible version of that book s content No mere abridgment this new book draws on years of Smith s popular presentations on the ideas in Desiring the Kingdom to offer a fresh bottom up rearticulation The author creatively uses film literature and music illustrations to engage readers and includes new material on marriage family youth ministry and faith and work He also suggests individual and communal practices for shaping the Christian life     Teaching to Wonder Judy Gattis Smith,1997-01-01     Teaching the Mystery of God to Children Judy Gattis Smith,2005 This is a book of clues clues to the awe and immensity of God that will lead children to think about rather than learn about God Instead of teaching in the traditional sense it provides clues for a shared journey toward discovering the Divine Mystery at the core of the universe The recent trend in Christian education has been to emphasize knowledge and to make church school more fun and entertaining But in our zeal to pass on the basics of the faith we have often neglected to guide children into truly experiencing the full wonder of the almighty We have taught them about religion but we have not always helped them to establish a deep and meaningful relationship with God This book approaches the mission from a different perspective one that identifies and reaffirms the spiritual experiences young people are already having Each chapter suggest numerous ideas for use in classes as well as a Time to Reflect section for adults to recall and meditate on their own spiritual life as children Teaching The Mystery Of God To Children is an essential resource for any parent or church school teacher who is interested in the spiritual development of their children Subjects discussed include The Bible Art Symbols Music Sounds Movement Words Poetry Nature Sacred Space Koans and Miracles Death Judy Gattis Smith is the author of more than a dozen books including Teaching to Wonder Planting Spiritual Seeds and Developing a Child's Spiritual Growth through the Senses Abingdon She has also written three books for grandmothers and she is a regular contributor to Episcopal Teacher magazine Smith has led more than 200 workshops and seminars and has been a keynote speaker at conferences throughout the United States

The Power of Imagination Andrew Wommack,2019 Imagination a Gift from God Nathan Sparkes,2018-12-04

Nathan had no limits when it came to dreaming and believing as a child Unfortunately the world distorted his true ability to dream big and to believe in bigger things He fell into sin and corruption growing up and forgot about what it meant to dream like a child again when there were no limits As he fell further and further into darkness he lost himself This is now his journey of how Nathan got back to believing and trusting in his wild dreaming all over again Using His imagination was truly a gift from God Imagination is a powerful gift from God We need to learn how to use our imagination correctly because if we don't learn this process it will begin to cause us to limit God in our lives God's work in our lives is only limited by us limiting our imagination We all have desires of things we want to achieve This is why we need visions hopes and dreams Visions hopes and dreams gives us a purpose in life It gives us goals to look forward to and gives us objectives we wish to achieve Having hopes of dreaming big are a part of who we are We cannot live without them that's why we need to learn to develop a wonderful imagination that reflects the heart of God
