Commentaries Election Predestination John Calvin:

Commentaries on Election and Predestination John Calvin, 2015-11-27 John Calvin 10 July 1509 27 May 1564 was one of the most influential Christians of the last millennium An influential French theologian and pastor during the Protestant Reformation Calvin was a principal figure in the development of the system of Christian theology later named after him Originally trained as a humanist lawyer he broke from the Roman Catholic Church around 1530 and after religious tensions provoked a violent uprising against Protestants in France Calvin fled to Basel Switzerland where he published the first edition of his seminal work Institutes of the Christian Religion in 1536 Calvin was a tireless polemic and apologetic writer who generated much controversy He also exchanged cordial and supportive letters with many reformers including Philipp Melanchthon and Heinrich Bullinger In addition to the Institutes he wrote commentaries on most books of the Bible as well as theological treatises and confessional documents He regularly preached sermons throughout the week in Geneva Calvin was influenced by the Augustinian tradition which led him to expound the doctrine of predestination and the absolute sovereignty of God in salvation of the human soul from death and eternal damnation Calvin's writing and preachings provided the seeds for the branch of theology that bears his name The Reformed and Presbyterian churches which look to Calvin as a chief expositor of their beliefs have spread throughout the world Concerning the Eternal Predestination of God John Calvin, 2018-12-27 Although he wrote comprehensively on a wide range of doctrinal issues it is Predestination with which Calvin is most associated today In this his definitive text on the subject he outlines fully a doctrine he feels has been wilfully misinterpreted to the detriment of the Church Readers will witness Calvin masterfully arguing his points wrestling with the scriptures and fully engaging in the polemical world of sixteenth century theological debate as he refutes the views of three of his chief detractors J K S Reid's widely praised translation preserves the nuances of Calvin's thought and the strength of his rhetoric while his introduction offers a critical examination of Calvin's theological argument The Doctrine of Election John Calvin, 2022-11-16 Translated from the French by Robert White When Calvin says that he would not have spoken of election had Scripture not led the way we need not doubt his word If he defends the doctrine with vigour it is because it runs as an unbroken thread through both Old and New Testaments Like the doctrines of providence atonement and the new birth it is a doctrine of sovereign grace Calvin did not invent election it is a doctrine which belongs to the universal church Its importance for him lies in the fact that it anchors the work of redemption not in our feeble powers of will but in God's inexplicable love for sinners and it traces that work to a determination freely made in heaven before the world began The present volume offers a variety of sources newly translated from the French which throw fresh light on Calvin's doctrine of election In place of his more formal works such as the Institutes from which the doctrine is usually derived texts have been selected which were intended for oral delivery to a largely non specialist audience The tensions inherent in the doctrine such as God's mercy versus his justice are honestly acknowledged and answered Throughout appeal is made not to philosophical speculation but to God's revealed word To depart from Scripture the Reformer holds is to enter a labyrinth from which there is no way out There is no hint of bookishness in the texts presented here This is theology for Everyman clear comprehensive and rich in practical application And it leads as all good theology should to the praise of God's glory

Reformation Theology Matthew Barrett, 2017-03-16 Five hundred years ago the Reformers were defending doctrines such as justification by faith alone the authority of Scripture and God's grace in salvation some to the point of death Many of these same essential doctrines are still being challenged today and there has never been a more crucial time to hold fast to the enduring truth of Scripture In Reformation Theology Matthew Barrett has brought together a team of expert theologians and historians writing on key doctrines taught and defended by the Reformers centuries ago With contributions from Michael Horton Gerald Bray Michael Reeves Carl Trueman Robert Kolb and many others this volume stands as a manifesto for the church exhorting Christians to learn from our spiritual forebears and hold fast to sound doctrine rooted in the Bible and passed on from generation to generation

Election and Predestination Samuel Fisk, 2002-04-09 You are not about to read the views of one author alone In this powerful book Samuel Fisk quotes over 100 scholars He presents in one volume a vast array of balanced and scholarly views to help you unravel the vexed questions of election and predestination It is often assumed that one must be either a Calvinist or an Armenian This is not so There is a balanced scriptural line of truth regarding election that will preserve the Bible student from dangerous by path meadows into which far too many have strayed over the years As you read the wise and careful comments of such scholars as W E Vine Sir Robert Anderson C H Spurgeon F B Meyer Handley Moule Harry Ironside R A Torrey G Campbell Morgan Wilber M Smith J C Ryle A T Robinson Christopher Wordsworth and J Sidlow Baxter you will begin to see your way through this particularly tricky theological minefield This could be one of the most important books you will ever read

Listening to the Neighbor Byungohk Lee, 2015-05-12 The Trinity can be understood as a social community with members speaking and listening to one another in love or as Luther understood the Trinity as conversation then God's mission essentially involves in mission in dialogue Byungohk Lee contends the church has to embrace the dialogical dimension in missional terms because the triune God is the subject of mission The missional church conversation has taken it for granted that local churches should speak and listen to their neighbors In contrast for many churches in Asia including Korea mission has generally tended to be practiced in a monological rather than dialogical manner The neighbor has not been regarded as a conversational partner of the church but only as the object for its mission In Listening to the Neighbor Lee shows that some local churches have participated in God's mission by listening to their neighbors He argues that listening is not a technique but a multifaceted learning process in missional terms The church must nurture its hearts eyes and ears in order to listen to the sigh of its neighbors
