

WORD OF THE DAY

The logo features the words "WORD" and "OF THE DAY" in a stylized, blocky font. The letters are primarily white with black outlines, set against a blue background. The "O" in "WORD" is a large circle, and the "O" in "OF THE DAY" is a smaller circle. Behind the text is a sunburst graphic consisting of several white triangles radiating outwards from behind the letters, creating a sunburst effect. The overall design is clean and modern, with a focus on the text.

Computational Literacy for the Humanities

Zef Segal,Nurit Melnik,2025-06-23 Computational Literacy for the Humanities provides an introduction to mathematics and programming that is specifically designed for use by those engaged in the humanities Linking mathematical concepts and computational skills the chapters in this book explore humanistic questions from diverse fields such as art history and literature The book helps to advance computational and digital literacy by showing that each mathematical concept has a history and each technique has a meaning Rather than viewing mathematics and computer programming as purely instrumental they are integrated into the process of achieving greater understanding of humanistic phenomena Algorithms data statistics and networks are taught critically within the book whilst the authors also make a concerted effort to expose the internal biases of these tools They also demonstrate the applicability of quantification and computation for the promotion of diversification and inclusivity within the humanities All exercises are designed as an opportunity to gain hands on mathematical and computational experience whilst critically exploring and interpreting humanistic phenomena Computational Literacy for the Humanities shows readers how to engage with data in a way that is challenging yet meaningful and empowering It will be of interest to scholars and students working across the humanities and should be of particular interest to those working in digital humanities Foreign Language Teaching and Information and Communication Technology Barbara Lewandowska-Tomaszczyk, John Osborne, Frits Schulte, 2001 This volume intends to offer guidelines for the utilisation of information and communication technology ICT in language study and teaching First chapters demonstrate how this general revolution has led to the emergence of a new educational paradigm in the context of digitally enriched learning environments including its design and implementation for literary or cultural studies The applications of ICT in language learning and the use of computers in SLA research are discussed in the next two chapters The final chapter introduces and discusses the scope and concepts of computational linguistics and corpus linguistics and their applications in lexicography translation and foreign language teaching It is also devoted to looking at ways in which computers can contribute to our understanding of what language is and what implications this knowledge can bring to linguistic practice and use Every-day English Richard Grant White, 1892
