Sandra Aitken,2009-04-13 Community Palliative Care examines the complex support and information needs of seriously ill patients and their families and will encompass not only the patient s journey but that of the family during the illness trajectory and into the bereavement period The text is divided into three sections professionals patients and carers The first section discusses the roles and contributions made by other members of the primary health care team and examines the role of the nurse Section two explores the psychosocial support needed by patients receiving palliative care and looks at the community palliative care clinical nurse specialists role in relation to psychological as well as practical problems surrounding a life threatening illness. The final section will look at the needs of the family and carers and the support that the community palliative care clinical nurse specialist can offer to the individuals. Included in this segment will be the complex issues faced by carers in relation to the changing roles within the family children, death and bereavement.

Psychosocial Nursing Care: a Guide to Nursing the Whole Person Dave Roberts, 2013-06-16. Nursing involves caring for the whole person and taking care of both physical and psychosocial needs. This book aims to help the reader to develop the knowledge, skills and confidence to care for the whole person and to ensure the patient is at the centre of the care giving experience. The book considers different aspects of therapeutic nursing care and explains how you can make the most of opportunities to nurse the whole person. Key topics covered include Understanding the personal experience of illness, Communication and listening skills, Developing nurse patient relationships, Psychosocial assessment skills, Using psychotherapeutic approaches. Since it is common for those who are physically ill to feel psychologically vulnerable, the book also has chapters exploring how to care for patients who are anxious, depressed, psychotic or display challenging behaviours. All chapters include case studies and personal stories of illness to help illustrate the range of practice opportunities for improving your nursing care of the whole person. An essential read for all nurses looking to hone their craft and for those preparing to qualify who want a deeper understanding of the true art of nursing.

Cancer nursing J. Corner, 2001 Issues and Resources for the Cancer Nurse Susan L. Groenwald, 1992

A Theory of Cancer Care in Healthcare Settings Carol Cox, Maya Zumstein-Shaha, 2017-09-01. This book provides healthcare professionals with a practice theory for the care and management of patients who have been diagnosed with cancer. It explores what patients experience and how healthcare professionals can assist them in dealing with their uncertainty and fear as well as planning for the future. Unique to the book is its explication of the emerging theory, The Omnipresence of Cancer, which is set in the context of a discussion of earlier theories also concerned with cancer care. Chapters demonstrate how The Omnipresence of Cancer has been developed, validated through research and being further tested in relation to cancer care. In particular, a chapter on philosophical reflections using theory to produce knowledge for practice is included. Each chapter provides essential background, a synthesis of the current state of knowledge and practice examples associated with cancer care. The combination of theoretical reflection and practice examples is designed to promote comprehension and guidance on implementation of the theory as well as recommendations for practice. This book will be of significant interest to healthcare students and professionals working in the field of cancer care and oncology, particularly healthcare professionals working in advanced practice roles and nurse educators. It is also anticipated that professionals working in pastoral care, occupational therapy, social work and radiography will be interested in this book.

Palliative Nursing Elaine Stevens, Susan Jackson, Stuart Milligan, 2009-11-16. Palliative Nursing is an evidence-based practical guide for nurses working in areas of practice where general palliative care is provided. This may be in hospitals nursing homes dementia units the community and any other clinical areas which are not classified as specialist palliative care. This book first explores the history and ethos of palliative care and then looks at palliative nursing across various care settings. It then looks at palliative nursing care for people with specific illnesses including heart failure, dementia, chronic obstructive pulmonary disease, cancer and neurological conditions. Palliative care for children and young people is discussed and then the book finally looks at education and research in palliative nursing. Palliative Nursing will be essential reading for all nurses working with palliative care patients in a non-specialist role i.e. in hospitals, primary care and nursing homes as well as nursing students. SPECIAL FEATURES Explores the palliative nursing issues related to specific diseases groups Written in the context of the new national tools i.e. the end of life initiative preferred place of care Liverpool care pathway and Gold standards framework. Each chapter includes practice points and cases to allow the practitioner to undertake guided reflection to improve practice. Written by nurses for nurses. Provides guidance for nurses working in all four countries of the UK.

Cancer Nursing Susan L. Groenwald, 1997 Caring in Context Virginia LeBaron, 2024-03-29 Drawing on ethnographic research conducted by an American nurse. Caring in Context is an exploration of how most of the world experiences cancer and how nurses bear witness and respond to the suffering of others when they have little means to help or for complex reasons choose not to. This compelling book centers on nurses in a government cancer hospital in South India and examines key contexts that influence nursing practice and the delivery of healthcare including hierarchical legacies of colonialism and the caste system, resource scarcity, power and perceived powerlessness and gender inequities. These themes are illustrated through intersecting narratives such as the story of Hameeda, an orphaned teenager with sarcoma who lives at the hospital until she becomes paralyzed and Sister Meena, a nurse who strives to provide better care but encounters overwhelming structural obstacles and is chastised by her superiors for doing too much. Offering a critical re-examination of the realities faced by clinicians, patients and family members who struggle to deliver and receive cancer care. Caring in Context's unique perspective and accessible style will appeal to a wide and interdisciplinary audience from practitioners, academics and advocates to anyone interested in the complex context of the human experience.
