Wood, 2012-05-03 This is a book about translation and literary influence It takes as its subject Spain's most important contemporary novelist Javier Mar as 1951 who worked as a literary translator for a significant portion of his early career Since then he has maintained that translation had a crucial impact on the development of his writing style and his literary frame of reference It examines his claims to the influence of three writers whose works he translated Laurence Sterne Sir Thomas Browne and Vladimir Nabokov It does so by engaging in close reading of his translations examining how he meets the linguistic syntactic and cultural challenges they present His prolonged engagement with their prose is then set alongside his own novels and short stories the better to discern precisely how and in what ways his works have been shaped by their influence and through translation Hence this study begins by asking why Mar as should have turned to translation in the cultural landscape of Spain in the 1970s and how the ideological standpoints that animated his decision affect the way he translates His translation of Sterne's Life and Opinions of Tristram Shandy Gentleman is set alongside his pseudo autobiographical novel Negra espalda del tiempo Dark Back of Time while his translation of Sir Thomas Browne's Urn Burial is then analysed in tandem with that produced by Jorge Luis Borges and Adolfo Bioy Casares Subsequent chapters examine how Browne's prose has shaped Mar as's thinking on oblivion posterity and time The final chapters offer an analysis of the partial translation and palimpsest of Lolita he undertook in the early 1990s and of his most ambitious novel to date Tu rostro ma ana Your Face Tomorrow as a work in which characterization is underpinned by both literary allusion and the hybridization of works Mar as has translated G.K.
