The Gaze on the Past

Olga López-Valero Colbert, 2007 This book explores Antonio Muñoz Molina's creation of compelling narratives about Spain's immediate past by engaging in a dynamic dialogue with popular culture subgenres and the media The author asserts that popular culture functions in Muñoz Molina's novels as provider of a series of strategies that represent in the text aspects of Francoism and the Transition that because of their relevance are part of the structure of feeling of those periods The study focuses on the role of popular music film photography the thriller the romance novel as well as the radio and other gadgets of modern technology in Muñoz Molina's Novels The Gaze on the Past argues that through the incorporation of popular culture in texts Muñoz Molina undertakes a deliberate and intense reflection on memory and on the creation of historical moments highlighting their desire to be heard from publisher

Working Through Memory

Ofelia Ferrán, 2007 Studies various constructions of memory in contemporary Spanish literature evoking different aspects of a past of repression from both the civil war and the Franco regime This book analyzes narrative texts published between the 1960s and 1990s that present memory and the recuperation of a traumatic past as their main theme

The Discourse of Flanerie in Antonio Muñoz

Molina's Texts Richard Sperber, 2015-09-10 Edgar Allan Poe Charles Baudelaire and Walter Benjamin have shown that flânerie is anything but an aimless stroll Walking through London Paris and Berlin entailed engagements with the latest modernity Thought provoking exhilarating and at times terrifying flânerie adjusted to and documented the mobility of modernity its aesthetic possibilities and social risks Antonio Muñoz Molina is one of several contemporary authors who have closely coupled the development of their literary characters to urban perambulations Their biographic growth cultural and social adaptations as well as epistemological insights are so dependent on flânerie that his late twentieth and early twenty first century texts warrant the designation flaneur literature Mu oz Molina has also contributed to the current decentralization of flaneur literature from Paris to smaller cities including Spanish cities like Granada Córdoba and San Sebastián Reflecting on Poe Baudelaire and Benjamin in these cities his characters update and revise the canon of flaneur literature stretching its discursive boundaries This study examines not only the mobility of his characters but also draws attention to intercultural aspects of his flaneur literature which lie both in a uniquely Spanish perspective on flânerie as well as in engagements with cultural otherness Walking through a Moroccan city or through Chinatown in New York Mu oz Molina's characters broaden the Eurocentric horizon of canonical flaneur literature and the modernist one of his Spanish flaneur precursor Federico García Lorca whose portrait of New York is revisited in Mu oz Molina's longest flaneur text National and literary boundaries blur as intercultural urban spaces transform his characters into transnational subjects This study traces the author's struggle with this globalization a residual rural nostalgia straddles uneasily with forays into filmic flânerie a form of spectatorship that renders the flaneur newly mobile in the mass mediated environments of postmodernity If Mu oz Molina is generally regarded as an incisive chronicler of Spain's transition from Francoism to democracy and an attentive memorialist of the Spanish Civil War this study bases its portrait of a much more globally engaged Mu oz Molina in his characters' movements from Spain into the urban centers of Euro American postmodernity and its northern African periphery

Constructing Spain Nathan Richardson, 2012 Does fiction do more than just represent space Can our experiences with fictional storytelling be in themselves spatial In Constructing Spain: The Reimagination of Space and Place in Fiction and Film Nathan Richardson explores relations between cultural representation and spatial transformation across fifty years of Spanish culture Beginning in 1953 the year Spanish space was officially reopened to Western thought and capital and culminating in 2003 the year of Aznar's unpopular involvement of his country in the second Iraq War Richardson traces in popular and critically acclaimed fiction and film an evolution in Spanish storytelling that while initially representative in nature increasingly engages its audience in spatial practices that go beyond mere perception or conception of local material geographies In original readings of films by Luis Berlanga Luis Buñuel Alex de la Iglesia Alejandro Amenábar and Julio Medem and novels by Juan Goytisolo Antonio Muñoz Molina and Javier Marías Richardson shows this formal evolution as a necessary response to developments restorations and transformations of local landscapes that resulted during these years from various human migrations tourist invasions urban development plans resurgent nationalisms and finally globalization As these changes occur Richardson traces a shift in the works studied from mere representation of spatial change toward actual engagement with shifting physical and social geographies as they inch ever closer toward the production of an actual spatial experience for their audiences In the final chapters of this book Richardson offers in depth and highly original readings of the storytelling projects of Medem and Marías in particular showing how these two artists invite readers to not only reconceive hegemonic notions of space and place but to practice alternative notions of being in place In these final readings Constructing Spain points to the newest developments in contemporary Spanish narrative and film a rise of new grammars of creation to challenge the ongoing capital driven creative destruction of globalized Spanish geography Los procedimientos narrativos en "El Jinete polaco" de Antonio Muñoz Molina Ama Kouassi,1999 Les "lieux de mémoire" dans El Jinete polaco d'Antonio Muñoz Molina Marie-Claude Chaput,1996 History and Popular Culture in the Novels of Antonio Munõz Molina Olga López Valero Colbert,1998 Traces of Contamination Eloy E.
